THE NATIONAL CONGRESS.

THE SENATE PASSES THE SLIVER BILL.

Appropriation Bills Passed by the House—The Postal Telegraph.

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The Senate today after a week's debate, passed the silver bill by a vote of 42 to 25. The vote was as follows: Yeas—Messrs. Bate, Berry, Blodgett, Butler, Call, Cameron, Cockrell, Coke, Colquitt, Daniels, Easton, George, Gorman, Harris, Hearns, Ingalls, Jones (Ark.), Jones (Nevada), Kenna, Manderson, Mitchell, Moody, Morgan, Paddock, Pasco, Payne, Pierce, Plumb, Power, Pugh, Ransom, Reagan, Sanders, Squire, Stewart, Teller, Turpie, Vance, Vest, Voorhees, Walthall, Wolcott—42.

Nays—Messrs. Aldrich, Allen, Allison, Blair, Carey, Chandler, Cullum, Dawes, Edmunds, Evarts, Fry, Gray, Hale, Hawley, Hisscock, Hoar, McPherson, Morrill, Platt, Sawyer, Sherman, Spooner, Stockbridge and Wilson of Maryland—25.

The silver bill as passed provides for the free coinage of silver, and makes it a legal tender for public and private debts, placing it in all respects on a par with gold.

At 3:20 the Senate adjourned.

House.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17.—The House went into committee of the whole. Mr. Burrows, of Mich., in the chair, on the Sunday Civil appropriation.

The committee rose and reported the bill to the House and it was passed.

The House then went into committee of the whole, Mr. Allen of Mich., in the chair, on the Indian appropriation bill Mr. Perkins, of Kansas, in charge of the measure, stated it appropriated about $6,000,000. He spoke in favor of a liberal expenditure for the education of the Indian South.

The bill was read by sections.

On a point of order by Mr. Cannon, of Ill., the appropriation of $60,000 to refund to Cherokee Indians the expense of their removal to the Indian Territory was stricken out.

Pending further action the committee rose, some unimportant measures were passed, and the House at 3:40 adjourned.

ANOTHER RAILROAD.

The Vote to Be Taken July 21st—Shocco Springs—W. R. Henry, Esq., for Solicitor.

(Cor. of STATE CHRONICLE.)

HENDERSON, June 17th.—The Railroad election to be held on the 21st of July to vote thirty or forty thousand dollars subscription to a railroad to some point in Nash county, is the all absorbing topic. There is some opposition to the subscription, but all concede that the railroad will be of great benefit. The tobacco people say it will hurt Henderson the trade of all that section.

The Shocco Springs company has just been incorporated, and filed the charter in the office of the Superior Court Clerk. The company proposes to build and sell water, build hotels and cottages, stage, telegraph and telephone.

The following are the officers: President, J. O. Harrell; Vice-President, J. R. Young, Secretary; W. B. Parker, Treasurer; A. C. Zollicoffer, Attorney.

The political pot doth now boil as a seething cauldron. Col. Burgwyn, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, has called the convention for June 28th. No one seems to want the sheriffship of this county, as there are no candidates. Sheriff Smith says he will not have it, and openly announces himself a candidate for Clerk of Superior Court.

Vance, like the other counties in this judicial district, except Franklin, has her candidate for solicitor, and the third judicial district could do no better than nominate him. Moreover, Mr. Henry, in addition to his claim upon the Democratic party for services rendered, has every qualification that could be wished. He possesses a natural fondness for prosecuting a guilty man, or one whom he thinks guilty, and when he is heard before the jury, then one realizes that orators, like poets, are born, not made. Ten years of hard, faithful study of the law, especially the criminal branch, fit him eminently for the position. Again, this end of the district wants a solicitor, and when one of the greatest criminal pleaders and advocates desires the position, Vance county hopes the convention will see it and act upon it.

TRANSFUSION.

An Operation that May Result in the Recovery of Mr. Henderson, of Dallas.

(Charlotte Chronicle.)

W. Thomas Henderson, of Dallas, who had been suffering with typhoid fever for three weeks, had several hemorrhages from the bowels, all amounting to two gallons, which produced such exhaustion as to make it evident that death would soon follow unless something was done to replace the vital fluid which he had lost. To meet this emergency, on Wednesday evening June 11, Dr. Jenkins, of Dallas, and Dr. Wilson, of Gastonia, performed the operation of transfusion, using the blood of a lamb, introducing about one quart of this blood, which was followed by immediate improvement, and he now shows marked improvement and every evidence of a rapid recovery. No one had any hope of his recovery previous to the transfusion.

MILITIA CALLED OUT

To Prevent a Lynching in Missouri.

(By United Press.)

SEDAVIA, Mo., June 17.—Gov. Francis has called out the militia to prevent the lynching of W. E. Turlington, who killed Sheriff Cramer, of Cowper county, at Booneville Saturday night while attempting to escape from jail.

THE R. R. INVESTIGATION.

The R. R. Investigation Committee has already done a good work, and they yesterday elicited facts that show:

FIRST—That the North Carolina R. R. is liable for taxation. Of course this is not admitted by all, but the evidence taken shows that this road ought to pay taxes to the State. We hope that the Committee can show that the Railroad is liable, and will make it plank down its proportion of the burdens of the State taxation.

SECOND—That the Express Companies pay only about $800 a year tax to the State and counties. They will probably recommend that in the future the Express Companies be taxed per mile as they are taxed in Virginia. This would be an improvement.

NEW YORK LETTER.

A North Carolina Lady in Gotham. (Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.)

NEW YORK, N. Y., June 14.—Of course we meet many North Carolinians here; and how pleasant it is to meet home people away from home. A cordial greeting was extended us by Rev. Thos. Dixon, Jr., pastor of one of the churches here. He is doing a grand work, and has been obliged, owing to the crowds which throng to hear him, to preach in Association Hall, his church being all too small for the congregation.

A visit to Greenwood that beautiful "city of the dead" was a part of our programme on yesterday. Clad in the hallimonts of spring and just as the sun was sinking one could but be forcibly reminded of the words of the German poet, Gluck:

Metaphors it were no pain to die,
On such an eve, when such a sky
O'er canopies the west.

And looking from an elevation, all the city lying just beyond, teaming with bustle and business, we thought of the life that is. Around and about us lay the silent dead, reminding us of the life that was, while the church spires pointing heavenward suggested very forcibly the life which is to come.

Our attention was called to the grave of Sunset Cox, which, on Decoration Day had been literally loaded with floral offerings—a tribute we understand—from the news boys of New York and Jersey City. But the shadows are lengthening and so we return to the City and spend a most delightful evening with friends. By the way, we have, through the courtesy of an ex-North Carolinian, admission to the rooms of the N. Y. Southern Society, on 25th street, and access to all the Southern papers. New York is certainly a great place, and is now being very thoroughly "done up" by "We Two."

A NOTABLE MARRIAGE.

One of the Rich Caldwell Sisters Weds a Baron.

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 17.—The wedding of Lena Caldwell, one of the rich and somewhat eccentric sisters, whose large fortunes have long been coveted by the titled gentry of Europe, and the Baron Von Zadwine, German minister to Mexico, took place this morning in the chapel connected with the new Catholic university which has been largely built by the munificent gifts of the Caldwell sisters. The event, though a notable one, has not stirred society to its depths, for the young ladies have not been a part of the social structure here.

Bishop Spalding, of Peoria, the spiritual guardian of the Caldwell sisters, performed the ceremony, assisted by Bishop Keane, the rector of the university. Miss Fry, of New York, the other guardian of the sisters, gave the bride away. At the conclusion of the marriage service, low mass was celebrated. The bride couple held an informal reception in the vestibule of the chapel, and were then driven to the Arlington Hotel, where a wedding breakfast was served to a select few. A unique feature was the decoration with orange blossoms of the bridal carriage and the horses attached to it. Baron and Baroness Zadwine left to-day for the City of Mexico.

Winston Subscribes $200,000 for City Improvements.

(Special to STATE CHRONICLE.)

WINSTON, N. C., June 17.—Winston covered herself with glory to-day. The proposition to issue $300,000 worth of bonds for city improvements was overwhelmingly carried, not a single vote against it.

This provides for the immediate erection of a market house, city hall and city prison, the construction of a sewerage system, well paved streets and buying of water-works. The $200,000 bill will go up immediately, as will also plant factories of P. H. Hones and R. J. Reynolds, which will be the largest in the world.

A BALLOON ADRIFT.

The Terrible Situation of the Aeronauts.

(By United Press.)

ATLANTA, Ga., June 17.—A balloon has been seen drifting about in this vicinity since Saturday. Memoranda which fell from it and was picked up, state that it is Prof. Walker's balloon from Dayton, O. The occupants had lost their ballast and were adrift, suffering from cold.

The Pretender Arrested.

(Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.)

COLUMBIA, N. C., June 14.—James Dillon, the man who pretended to be dead in order that his wife could get the money for which his life was insured, has been arrested.

THE LIE PASSED.

AN EXCITING SCENE IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Mr. Gladstone Challenged Mr. Balfour to Prove His Assertions—Mr. Balfour Modified His Language.

(By United Press.)

LONDON, June 17.—There was an exciting scene in the House of Commons this evening, growing out of a Parnellite demand for an explanation on the part of Mr. Balfour of the maltreatment of the people of New Tipperary by the police on the occasion of the celebration of Mr. O'Bryan's marriage by parades, bonfires, etc.

Mr. Balfour denied the charge that the people had been maltreated for celebrating Mr. O'Brien's marriage; that they had been maltreated at all. The police had extinguished the bonfires, but only for the reason that they obstructed the streets.

Mr. Parnell and Mr. Clancy questioned Mr. Balfour in regard to the system of "shadowing" prevalent in Ireland, and asked how "shadowing" would prevent boycotting.

Mr. Balfour said that no one in Ireland had been shadowed unless he engaged in intimidating others. When intimidation ceased he said shadowing would be stopped. Mr. Balfour then alluded to the crimes which had been committed by the Irish, his remarks having the effect to exasperate the Parnellites.

Mr. Dillon in a violent manner demanded an apology from Mr. Balfour for the use of the word "crime" and Mr. Gill gave Mr. Balfour the lie.

Mr. Gladstone challenged Mr. Balfour to prove his assertions that the Liberals had engaged in, encouraged or abetted crime. Mr. Balfour substituted the words "boycotting and intimidation" for "crime" and on appeal to the speaker the subject was dropped.

THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

The Senate Committee Proposes an Increase of $4,355,450.

(By United Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The Senate committee on commerce has completed the river and harbor bill, and will report it to the Senate to-morrow. The House bill appropriates $10,973,945. The Senate committee has recommended certain amendments reducing the appropriations in the House bill $667,700, and several others increasing to the amount of $4,344,450, making the proposed net increase $8,667,750. Among the most important increases are: Baltimore harbor, $200,000; Potomac river, Washington, $80,500; Great Kanawha, West Virginia, $140,000; Cape Fear river, North Carolina, below Wilmington, $100,000; St. John's river, Fla., $25,000; Arkansas river, $50,000; Tennessee river, below Chattanooga, $75,000.

THE CHAMPION FOOL.

He Jumps 100 Feet from a Suspension Bridge and—Lives.

(By United Press.)

CINCINNATI, O., June 17th.—Meredith Stanly, the world's champion bridge jumper, made a successful dive from the suspension bridge at 1 p. m., to-day, a distance of 100 feet. He struck the water head first, and after coming to the surface he climbed into the boat waiting for him and helped row it ashore.

10,000 Men and Women on Strike.

(By United Press.)

NEW YORK, June 16.—The strike of cloakmakers, tailors, finishers, cutters, pressers and operators is on. Nearly 10,000 men and women went on a strike this morning and the cloak manufacturing trade is practically at a standstill.

Death of the Speaker of the Alabama House of Representatives.

(By United Press.)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 17.—Zon. C. C. Shorter, of Bufala, Speaker of the Alabama House of Representatives, died yesterday. He was a young man of brilliant attainments.

HE WAS BORN IN A LOG-CABIN.

But He is the Biggest Man North Carolina Has Produced.

(Wilmington Messenger.)

Dr. Gatling, the North Carolina inventor, says he will produce an ice machine that will make ice at one tenth of the present cost.

A Wronged Husband's Terrible Revenge.

(By United Press.)

St. Ignace, Mich., June 17.—John Bellemore returned home unusually early on Sunday night and found Angus McLeod in the arms of his wife. He compelled the woman to hold McLeod while he carved his victims legs. McLeod received twelve shocking cuts, none of which are likely to prove fatal. Bellemore then fled.

The Entire Top of a Mountain Disappears.

(By United Press.)

NEW YORK, June 17.—Tribunes special from Reading, Colorado, says that one of the peaks of Mount Shasta has disappeared. The top appears to have been cut short off and to have fallen into the crater below.

2,500 Men on a Strike.

(By United Press.)

EASTON, June 17.—The long threatened strike of the building laborers of Boston, Cambridge and Somerville is on this morning, and involves about 2,500 men of the three cities.

THE HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Additional Particulars of the Wreck On the W. N. C. R. R. (Asheville Citizen.)

The cause of the wreck, according to the statement of the railroad officials, was a defective truck on the tender, which broke, causing the derailment of the cars behind. The passengers tell it in another way, and say it was because of the rails spreading.

Rev. S. N. Barker, who was among the injured, was seen and said that it was his opinion that the rails had spread. He said that the accident occurred at a culvert, and that the ties were not safe, but were old and rotten. The officials say that new ties had been put down recently.

The wreck occurred on an embankment about twelve feet in height, and the sleeping car and first-class coach were derailed and turned on their sides. The passengers that were not much hurt were soon out, and immediately began the work of aiding the less fortunate ones. Their cries of pain and agony were pitiful. They were soon released and placed to one side to await the relief train.

The engine was left on the track, and the engineer and fireman were not hurt. Those who were seriously hurt were in the first-class car. Conductor H. C. Trott was in charge of the train and Will James was engineer.

The Western North Carolina railroad has heretofore had an excellent record, having never previously had a passenger wreck in a week. This is the first serious accident to a passenger train since the time the military train bringing the soldiers to the State encampment was derailed at Long's, seven miles from here. The officials attach no blame to anyone for this accident.

Superintendent McBees says that the loss to the company from damage to track and cars will amount to two or three thousand dollars. The track was cleared and trains were running by yesterday morning.

The body of Mrs. Scarborough was carried to Knoxville this morning. The interment will take place to-morrow. Mr. Scarborough was not able to accompany the remains.

Mrs. Von Bahlows condition remains unchanged to-day, and she is not yet out of danger. Mr. Scarborough is improving.

A BOY DROWNED.

He Plunged into the Water Overheated and Sank.

(From Charlotte Chronicle.)

STATESVILLE, N. C., June 16.—Last Saturday afternoon the town was shocked by the sad intelligence of the drowning of Eddie Miller, a bright young boy of sixteen, son of Henry Miller, of this city, in Keester's mill-pond.

It seems that he, with two or three other boys, had run a race from Statesville to the pond, which is two miles away, to see which could get into the water first. Eddie plunged into the cold water in his over-heated condition, and was soon found to be sinking. He was pulled out by his companions, but only breathed once or twice afterwards. It is not certain but that congestion of some kind caused his death.

A. AND M. COLLEGE.

Commencement Exercises To-day at The College.

The following is the programme:

Exercises will begin at 10 o'clock.

Prayer—Rev. J. J. Hall, D. D.

The work of Industrial Colleges as Viewed by a Freshman—Essays by A. G. Smith, of Johnston county, and S. E. Ashbury, of Burke county.

Addresses—by Dr. G. W. Sanderlin, Hon. H. E. Fries, Capt. S. A. Ashe, and Josephus Daniels.

Benediction.

After the conclusion of these exercises there will be an exhibition of practical work. This is the only day that there will be any exercises at the college.

The public is cordially invited to lend its presence to what will prove a pleasant morning.

Mr. Henry E. Fries is one of the most level-headed of all our North Carolina progressive men. Let Raleigh give him a big audience.

For Sheriff of Wake.

(Special Cor. of STATE CHRONICLE.)

We see that Mr. C. P. Rand is spoken of as candidate for sheriff of Wake county. After an interview we find that he is not in the field of office-seekers and has no intention of placing himself there but we are confident that if nominated by the Democratic convention, he will answer his country's call and rush forward with the standard of his party with such force that will sweep all opposition before him with that ease and grace which have characterized his movements in the past and made for him friends wherever he is known. He is a man of fine business abilities, a man of sound judgment, high social standing and good moral worth. A man with a record that has no stain, an unblemished character and above all a staunch and unyielding Democrat who would throw his whole soul in a work to rescue the office for his people. So gentlemen of the convention give us RAND as our sheriff and we will insure a large majority.

WAKE COUNTY.

A Desperate Prize Fight.

(By United Press.)

NEW YORK, June 17.—Paddy McBride, of Philadelphia, and Jimmy Lynch, of this city, met in a light glove fight to a finish this morning at Oak Point, in Long Island sound. One of the most desperate contests seen in the ring in this vicinity for many years was witnessed by over 200 enthusiastic sports. The men battled for a $1,000 stake, and an added purse of $500. Lynch won in the 18th round.

HE IS A LUCKY FELLOW.

"OUR MARY" ANDERSON MARRIED IN LONDON.

Particulars of The Marriage Ceremony—The Groom Gave a Fee of $500.

(By United Press.)

LONDON, June 17.—Miss Mary Anderson and Mr. Antonio Navarro were married to-day at St. Mary's Roman Catholic church at Hampstead. Miss Anderson drove to the church in a carriage, the windows and blinds of which were completely closed. The ceremony was of the plainest possible description. There was no choir present, the music being rendered by an organ.

The eve of the wedding day was spent by Miss Anderson in decorating the altar of St. Mary's church with palms and flowers purchased from the little shops and humble families of the Hampstead neighborhood.

At eight o'clock this morning Miss Anderson, with her family, attended mass, and partook of the communion. Notwithstanding the strenuous efforts made to conceal the place where the marriage ceremony was to be performed, hundreds of people crowded about the door of the church awaiting the arrival of the bride and groom.

At 11 o'clock Mr. Navarro arrived in a cab and was quickly followed by carriages containing the bride, her relatives and friends. Miss Anderson, who was charming in a dress of white satin, garnished with orange blossoms and rare lace, was led to the altar by Mr. Griffin, and was followed by Mrs. Griffin.

Canon Pursell, the rector of St. Mary's, unattended by assistants, conducted the marriage service, upon the conclusion of which the bride and groom knelt at the altar, beneath spreading palms, and listened to a brief but eloquent address by the canon.

Mrs. Navarro, nee Anderson, was deeply affected by the solemn adjurations of the clergyman. Low mass was then celebrated, and after the organ had played two wedding marches the bridal party was driven to Mr. Griffin's residence, where a wedding breakfast had been prepared for its entertainment. The rector, Father Pursell, was handed a fee of $500 by Mr. Navarro.

On coming from the church Mrs. Navarro was heartily cheered by the crowd of people which thronged about the exit.

FOR SUPERIOR COURT JUDGE.

W. E. Allen, Esq., of Wayne, Endorsed and Urged for the Place.

(Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.)

The name of W. E. Allen, Esq., of Wayne, will be presented to the judicial convention of the Fourth district, which will meet at Smithfield, July 1st, and his friends will ask for him the nomination for judge of the district.

He is a lawyer of fine legal attainments, of whom the late Chief Justice Smith used to say that no lawyer who appeared before the Supreme Court prepared and argued his cases more ably. He has kept up with his profession, is well versed in the statutes and familiar with the decisions of our courts. He is a learned and able lawyer, and so recognized by the bar of the district.

He is peculiarly qualified for the duties of the office, having an eminently judicial mind, firm, candid and impartial and a fairness that has long delighted his professional brethren. No attorney or editor in any court presided over by him would ever have occasion to complain of unfairness or the exhibition of bad temper.

But above all this Mr. Allen is a man of the highest character. Scrupulously honest and honorable, no breath of suspicion has ever touched his reputation, and he has the perfect confidence of the community in which he lives, and of every one who knows him.

With Allen for judge, the people of the district could watch with satisfaction his career upon the bench, with the assurance that he would always conduct himself as becomes one found worthy to occupy that important and dignified position.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL.

Prof. Chas. D. McIver will deliver an address at the Press Convention in Durham on July 23d, on Female Education.

Cards are out for the marriage of Dr. Adam A. Klutz to Miss Orah J. Crawford. The ceremony will take place at 2 p. m., June 26th, in the Goldsboro Baptist church.

The Rev. Dr. E. E. Hess, the new editor of the Nashville Christian Advocate, is a genial man and is not at all offended if an old clerical friend slaps him on the back and remarks: "Well, 'old Hess, how are you this morning?"

Tom Dixon's lecture, "Backbone," is pleasing the people all over the State. The Charlotte Chronicle said of it: "The lecture was grand; it was eloquent, harmonious and powerful. The speaker led his audience as if by magic from the humorous to the sublime."

Mr. R. A. Williams, more familiarly known as "Peg Leg" Williams, with a lot of brother railroad passenger agents from the South, is at Morehead catching more fish than he can tote, and gathering all the shells on Shackelford beach and Cape Lookout for distribution among his friends in Arkansas and Tennessee.

The Miners Finally Give Up.

(By United Press.)

DUNBAR, Pa., June 17.—The efforts of rescuing parties to reach the 32 entombed miners at the Farm Hill mine where the explosion occurred yesterday, were unavailing. It was determined this morning to cut off all fresh air and let the mine burn itself out and then recover the bodies of the victims. The coroner is on the ground. He viewed the bodies of the two dead recovered yesterday, but refuses to hold the inquest until the others are recovered.

COMMENCEMENT.

Closing Exercises of Wakefield Academy.

(Special Cor. STATE CHRONICLE.)

There has been much said of late of our college commencements, and justly so, too, for surely there has been reason for much favorable comment about them. We should be proud of our colleges and all they do that tend to make us love and support them. But shall we forget, in our enthusiasm for the colleges, our many excellent schools that are feeders to our higher institutions of learning? Surely not, for it is a well established fact that our colleges are directly dependent on our high schools and academies for the young men and young women who are to be prepared to enter college, and even more, yet, for the efficiency of their college work depends on previous training. There are many good schools in Wake, but none of them enjoy a more favorable reputation than the Wakefield Academy. It is not only a school for the immediate community, but has a very liberal patronage from several of the adjoining counties, and even from Virginia.

We Raleigh people think Wakefield is an out-of-the-way place, because there is no railroad there, but how badly mistaken you find yourself, if you attend her commencement exercises. The University or Wake Forest would not dare boast of numbers. When we drove up, we exclaimed: "Where did all the people come from," and it was not a favorable day either. A friend who had been there before informed us that they all lived in the adjacent country, Nash, Franklin, Johnston and other counties. A day before hand the people begin to pour in from all quarters.

The program consisted of recitations, address and music, all of which reflected credit on the school and its excellent management. The music was especially good and received much praise from the audience.

This school flourished under the very able management of Rev. Mr. Stringfield, and under Prof. Ferrell, she has lost none of her justly earned reputation, but has continued to flourish, until it ranks second to none in our borders for solid, thorough work, good discipline, and for moral tone no parent need have any anxiety.

In this school, young men and young women are prepared to enter college, and those who do not find it convenient to attend college, are well prepared for the various walks and pursuits in life.

Here young ladies have the best advantages under the most accomplished music teachers, in instrumental music. In fact, the school is very complete in its work.

Prof. Ferrell is to be congratulated for his good judgment, in selecting his assistants, for here lies an important part of the Principals work. He is assisted by Misses Cartwright and Shepherd, two of Virginia's most accomplished daughters, for whose service North Carolina feels justly proud, and is always ready to throw open her doors and welcome to her borders such excellent teachers. Last, but by no means least, we remember that Mrs. Stringfield is in the faculty and those who know her work best, admire her most, for she has long enjoyed an enviable reputation as a teacher of rare ability and skill.

Mr. Stringfield is a man of the biggest heart of any man we ever met, and after you have visited him a time or two, you will not ask why all good people love him. He invites everybody to his house, and treats them well, invites you to come again, and more still, he practices what he preaches.

Bigheartedness, however, seems to be a ruling quality of many of the good people of Wakefield, for surely, no one ever visited a more hospitable people.

After the close of this excellent school, the visitors returned to their homes with a "long live" the Wakefield Academy and her able faculty, and the good people around her.
